The Internet of Things (IoT) is easily one of the most powerful emerging technologies in the world today. As the IoT market for smart homes and connected cars (smart cars) continues on its path of parabolic growth, it's clear that IoT presents historic opportunities. Today's homes are increasingly connected, creating an enormous new smart-home market, and the smart-car market segment has become a nearly ubiquitous strategic development path for the auto industry as demand for constant connectivity soars.

With functionality and convenience, SPYR Inc. \(OTCQB: SPYR\) is delivering to consumers what they crave -- smart hardware, software solutions and products that integrate with the Apple Inc. ecosystem. Apple commands the largest share in the mobile devices market and will likely be dominant as the IoT market expands and consumers demand more privacy protection.

About SPYR Inc.
